Rojda and Wife.

The St. Wenceslaus' Boh mian Catholic Church sensation took on an entirely new phase Tuesday, when it was discovered that the expriest Johann Hojda had not gone on awedding tour to New York, but was spending his honey moon in Baltimore with his happy and blushing bride at No. 38 Pennsylvania avenue, where he and his bride, nee Mi-s Emilia Liebman, occupy rooms in the second story. Mr. Hejda, for he has now dropped his title of Reverend, was not feeling well, and his wife is also in delicate health. She is a neat and pect a letter from her soon. In case I transfer pleasant looking young woman, and seems to her things to you it must be after the helidays, have no thought of any one or anything except the man she has married. Her marriage is to her the secomplishment of the task she came from Europe to perform, and now that she is a w te, she seems to rest contented and happy. The husband looks careworn, as if he had been bearing a great burden on his shoulders, but still appears to believe that he has done the best thing under the circumstances that could be done. If he has sacrificed his creed he has at least righted the wrongs of the woman who loves him. The story is not a long one, and has been slready partly told. Mr. Hejda and his bride can neither of them speak English, and thus all the information secured was through Mr. Sommerfold. ex-priest met the young lady, Miss Emilia Liebman, in Prague, and became intimately acquainted with her-so intimately that on secount of his friendship he b c me a Protestans for a time, but afterwards re embraced the Catholic faith. He came to Balliquore last June; she followed him in November. Soon after her arrival there she was enthroped as his housekeeper at the clerky house of St. Wenc s laus' Church, at No. 151 East Fayette st. The old hous-keeper, Mrs. J. B.z.xicky, No. 189 North Dallas st., was asked to resign. and Emilia took her place. To the neighbors Emilia was known as the paster's sister. and her presence excited no comment. She was very much liked by these who knew her, and the pastor himself, though he always scemed to have a great burden upon his mind and walked with his head bowed down, was a great favorit with the congregation, and the wife of the saloon keeper next door to the clarey house could say nothing worse of him than that "he liked his beer." The young lady's program: condition became apparent soon after her arrival, and as it would not do for her to remain longer in the priest's house, about Christmastide the pastor reuted apartments for her in the house of Mr. Sommerfield, whither she was then removed, and where she has remained ever sizes, Mr. Hodida frequently visited his charge at her new home, and his presence was commented upon by a Bohemian friend across the street, who asked Mr. Sammerfield if the priest had moved into the neighborhood. All this time, as can be well supposed, the young lady had persistently urged the priest to marry her and save her from disgrace. This step he finally decided to take, and throwing his suspension by the a robbishop entirely out of consideration, this step he would have taken, whatever might have been the action of the Catholic Church authorities. In yesterday's issue was related how he was received into the faith of the Evangelical Lutheran denomination on last Thursday at Trinty Church, R.v. J. Pister, pastor, A very few hours after his reception into this church there was a weading at Mr. Sommerfield's bouse. Ex-Father Hojda was the groom, and Miss Liebman the bride. The ceremony was performed by the pastor of the Green St. Evangeli $5 and upward, by express, can be sent at our oal Luthern Church, and Mr. and Mrs. Sommerfield were about the only witnesses of the marriage. Since Thursday they have lived as quietly as possible in this house; and as their whereabouts were unknown, it had been generally believed they had left town immediately after the ceremony. The mar lage license was procured by Mr. Hejda and Mr. Sommerfeld, and everything was done in proper legal form. Mrs. Hejda's delicate health will compel their remaining here for some time, as it is probable that her babe will be born within a very few days. What they may then do or where they may go cannot be now told, but it is hardly probable they will remain here to live. Yesterday, at the request of the Archbishop, Mr. J. D. Kremelberg, the Austrian Consul at this port, made public several letters received by him, which explain the action of the Catholie authorities in suspending Mr. Hojda frem bis functions as a priest. The first letter, asking for information regarding Mr. Hojda, is as follows: Pischely, Oc. 11, 1879—Dear Sir: Will you have the kindness to give me the residence. actual employment, and other particulars regarding John H jda, who is said to act as Catholic priest in a Bohemian colony not far from Baltimere. He was born in Bohemia. A few years ago he was assistant priest in Kientsch, near Taur. Later he became a Protestant, in consequence of an acquaintance with a young lady. This friendship being broken up by the young lady, he re embraced the Catholic faith; and, according to bimself, he is still a member of the old religion. My first class goods aways in store and sold at lowest personal acquaintages with him makes me doubt his statement, particularly as he wants the young lady, who is a Protestant, to come to bim as housekeeper at the beginning of next mouth. She, too, expresses a desire to go. I therefore take the liberty, with the permission of her sister to ask of you to give us what information you can concerning him, in the name of humanity. I entertain the hope that you will give me, by return mail the in formation I ask, as time is very pressing. Yours, &c.; H. EISENHUT. To this letter Mr. K-emelberg replied that Father Hoj la had osed in charge of the Bo-hemian church here, and with it he sent a let ter from the Archbishop expressing the hope that the letter would reach Bobemia in time to prevent the young lady from coming.

In reply to this came the following letter: "PISCHELY; November 26, 1879. - Dear Sir: Your esteemed letter has reached us safely, but too late, for unfortunately the young lady, whose full name is Emilia Liehman, left Pregue whose full name is Emilia Liehman, left Prague on the 10th of Nevember, in opposition to her sister's wishes. family, but has been an orphan for many years. She carries with her all her possessions in state securities, each and sundry effects, which may be estimated at from 10,000 to 15,000 guilders (a guilder is worth about sixty conte). You will, therefore, dear sir, see that it is of some interest to her relatives as into whose hands this money falls. It is hard to say the o' ject of her going to America, but we have to fear that it is of a very delicate nature.

"As this step has been taken by the lady, we. who are near to her, request you, as Austrian consul, especially as she is unacquainted with the laws of America, to ascertain what becomes of her. of her.

"I would also request you to tell me what income Mr. Holds has as priest. Perhaps it is possible to save a human being from destruction.

"H. Elsenur."

Father Hojda was confronted by these letters, according to Mr. Kremelberg, that Miss Lichman was a relative of his, and that Mr. Eisenhut was angered because the priest had interfered with his (Eisenhut's) marriage to the young lady.
To Mr. Kremelberg, Father Hejda wrote the following:

BALTIMORE. December 24 1879. To the Austrian Consul of Baltimore, Md.:
Dear Sir-1 was greatly astonished to hear that Mr. Eisenhut did not refrain from giving to the public the private affsirs of Miss Emily Liebman. This young lady has promised to make the sister. Caroline, sole heiress of her money in case she should die. You were very right when you said that this man has more to do with the money than anything elso.

Miss Emily Liehman, as soon as she heard that Eisenhut had written to Baltimore, destroyed the paper concerning the disposal of her money, and has disinberited the sister. Mean-while I am of opinion she will not die, but in two months will have an heir of her own. I gave the lady before she went sway (to Chicago) a note to the effect that I had her effects. 1 exbecause I have not the time.

I do not wish the affair to come to the ears of the public, and I beg you not to justify me in the public, and I beg you not to justify me in the parish. If His Grace, the Archbishop, sends me away I will go I have had too much consideration for the parish. Respectfully, Johan Hedda.

Dr. Tutt: Dear Sir—During this year I treated nine nundred cases of lung diseases. In the lower wards of the city the cases were of a very severe type. It was there my attention was called to Tutt's Expecterant, and I confess my surprise at its wonderful power. During a practice of twenty years I have never known a medicine to act as premptly and with such happy effects. It instantly subdued the most violen fits of coughing, and invariably cured the di-sease in a lew days. I cheerfully endorse it as the best lung medicine I ever used.
